North Carolina Stakeholder Engagement

Who Is the NC Stakeholder Engagement Group?

The NC Stakeholder Engagement Group (NC SEG) is a cross-disability advocacy initiative focusing on shaping the long-term support and service systems through meaningful engagement and dialogue with policymakers. We are currently the only group in North Carolina that consists solely of individuals receiving services and their family members. We are called “Stakeholders” because we are affected by the decisions the State makes about long term care. We are called “cross-disability” because we represent individuals with developmental disabilities, mental health, substance use disorders, physical disabilities, and family caregivers. Our members come from all areas of the state.

Explanation of our score...

The NC Stakeholder Engagement Group developed a consensus about what we want from a long-term care system - the values, principles, needs, and outcomes important to us – and then to communicate that consensus to key decision makers. The “NC Outcomes and Expectations for Managed Long Term Services and Supports Report” emerged from these stakeholder discussions. The Outcomes & Expectations identified in the report are what is utilized in scoring legislation.
